About the Chicago Area Archivists

Since 1982, the Chicago Area Archivists has offered opportunities for archivists, librarians, and records managers in academic, corporate, governmental, institutional, library, and museum settings in the Chicago area to meet for social interaction and education. The CAA currently has over 100 members, and the CAA listserv reaches over 250 subscribers.

GOALS

- to share information on issues of interest to the local archival community
- to advocate preservation of and access to historically valuable resources in the area
- to keep members informed about archival programs and resources

ACTIVITIES:

We fulfill these goals through meetings, programs, tours of members' repositories, twice-yearly parties, participation in annual Archives Month events, and other activities.

ORGANIZATION

The CAA is managed by a volunteer steering committee. CAA activities are funded by annual membership dues of $10.
